WHO WE ARE

Saint-Cyr Art Studio is a full-service agency specializing in visual storytelling through large-scale commercial and community-engaged murals.

The minority woman-owned agency, made of a team of emerging and established artists with diverse and unique backgrounds and cultures, offers one-of-a-kind perspectives and creative solutions.

The agency's capability encompasses directions to productions, successfully creating campaigns, brand storytelling, and advertising of brands while engaging communities through murals. The agency fulfills from campaign strategy and production to video/photo storytelling and press release.

HISTORY AND MISSION

Saint-Cyr Art Studio was founded in 2019 and has painted over 85+ murals painted throughout NYC area and more. The agency was founded as an art education program; they started murals in March of 2021 and officially became a mural company in August of 2021. Saint-Cyr Art Studio also focuses on creating jobs for artists while providing them knowledge on the business side of art.

Saint-Cyr Art Studio's mission is to tell stories, spread positivity, beautify spaces and make art accessible to the public. Creating art within the community always means more than just delivering the assets at Saint-Cyr Art Studio. They grow with our communities. Wherever they are, they are respectful towards what they believe in. They connect and engage with communities and help them build positively, on their terms. They carefully curate experiences and memories for people within, so that everyone who participates can remember and cherish the experience.

SELECTED CLIENTS

OUR CEO

Marie Saint-Cyr evolved her Wyandanch, Long Island business- from hosting paintings and implementing art education programs, to creating largescale murals- with purpose. She pivoted her strategy and focused her value proposition on bringing her client’s vision to life, through murals that represent the communities she serves.

Ever since her family relocated to Long Island from Haiti when she was 8 years old, Marie’s passion for art persevered, despite her mom’s many warnings about the hard life of an artist. As a student at New York City’s Fashion Institute of Technology, her vision of being a financially successful artist motivated her to push for approval to take business courses in addition to her art classes. Since 2020, Marie has participated in 11+ business advancement programs through Hofstra University, Tuck School of Business, and Goldman Sachs.

TESTIMONIALS

Julie Chen, CJ Foods

“Through the first virtual meeting I already sensed that Marie is professional and passion about art. She is always on time, kind, and attention to details. My company loved her work and the end result. What a gem in the local New York City mural business!”

Jenna Larson, Interior Architects

“Marie and her team were one of several that we hired for various locations, and she blew all of us away with her unparalleled commitment to our timeline and feedback despite our not always being the easiest client :-). Thank Saint-Cyr Art Studios for bringing our drab walls to life!”

Kyle Brilliante, HighBridge Green School

“Marie and her team of artists were impeccable! They helped our community design and paint three murals. We would definitely use them again!”
